Vita

Jürg Bereuter has been working exclusively in construction and real estate law for many years, in particular in the area of public construction, planning and environmental law as well as property and land registry law. His clients include private real estate companies, professional developers and investors, as well as municipalities, associations and government agencies. Jürg Bereuter supports his clients in challenging planning and construction projects efficiently and in a time-saving manner thanks to his good networking with the authorities. Pragmatic solutions for his clients' concerns take precedence over long-standing disputes.
